Editorial

Dear Esteemed Readers,

It is with great pleasure that we present to you the latest issue of Cognition, a peer-reviewed transdisciplinary scholarly journal. This edition features a diverse selection of articles, each meticulously crafted and rigorously peer-reviewed to ensure the highest standards of academic excellence.

We are particularly proud of the originality and innovation showcased in the articles contained within this volume. Each piece represents a unique contribution to its respective field, offering fresh insights, novel methodologies, and thought-provoking analyses that push the boundaries of knowledge forward. Whether you are a seasoned scholar or an aspiring researcher, we are confident that you will find these articles both intellectually stimulating and academically rewarding; they will not only inform and inspire you but also spark new avenues of inquiry and collaboration. We invite you to engage with these articles critically and constructively, challenging assumptions, asking questions, and contributing to the ongoing conversation in your respective fields.

We would be remiss if we did not express our heartfelt gratitude to all those who have made this publication possible. In particular, we extend our thanks to our Campus Chief, Associate Prof. Dr. Laxman Singh Kunwar, whose unwavering support and encouragement have been instrumental in the development of this journal. His dedication to fostering a culture of academic excellence and innovation has served as an inspiration to us all.

In closing, we invite you to immerse yourselves in the wealth of knowledge contained within these pages, confident that you will find this issue of Cognition both enlightening and encircling. Thank you for your continued support, and we look forward to your feedback and contributions as we continue to explore the frontiers of interdisciplinary research together.

Warm Regards,
Prof. Dr. Sanjay Kumar Mishra
Editor-in-Chief
