It is a matter of immense pleasure to publish the Economic Review of Nepal, 4(1) published by the Department of Economics, Ratna Rajyalaxmi Campus. The department is making efforts for the publication of scholarly articles on various areas of economics in English medium. This journal containing seven articles has a variety of writing in the sphere of economics; these articles are highly useful to those interested in economics literature. Economic issues are taken as a key component of this age in the twenty-first century. It is hoped that this academic work could quench readers' appetites to some extent.

Finally, it is claimed that the strength of this journal rests on the inclusion of diverse issues of economic literature; the journal may be useful for interested scholars, students of economics, and other interested scientific communities. Constructive suggestions are highly welcome and will be incorporated in the coming issues to make it more comprehensive and lucid.
