

Editorial

Patan Prospective Journal Volume 3 No. 1, (June 2023) published by Democrat Professors' Association (DEPAN) confers on the academics, researchers and scholars opportunities to contribute to the academia through their rigorous write-ups. This journal comprises of research articles from multifarious disciplines ranging social sciences to natural sciences. The contribution of this journal in expanding the magnitude of academics' cognition and scaling up their career has been tremendously remarkable since the inception of its first issuance. It does not only encourage professors to contribute their write-ups but also creates a conducive milieu for researchers to explore the potentials within. The ceaseless endeavors of the untiring editors, industrious contributors, and executive members of Democrat Professors' Association, Patan Multiple Campus, Unit, generous campus administration, eminent reviewers, and well-wishers in general have translated the dream of imparting knowledge into reality globally through the research activities. Explicitly, scholars and contributors will benefit from the consistent publication of Patan Prospective Journal. However, all the stakeholders including DEPAN and Patan Multiple Campus, Tribhuvan University will implicitly benefit from the continued issuance of such a rigorous work. Besides, the contributors will stay responsible and accountable for their writings and data incorporated in their articles.

Since the policy of the editorial board of this journal has been to retain quality and originality in research articles with due consideration of the latest version of either APA or MLA documentation style, the articles in the current issue have been accepted with the acute editing. Despite our efforts in enhancing the quality and upgrading the version, we are open to considering constructive suggestions and feedback from the prospective readers, researchers and academics in our every issue. Besides, we rely on the positive output of the contributors' inputs in the days ahead. Hopefully, we look forward to collecting and selecting research articles from you all for the next issue. Finally, we would like to wish you all sound health, progress and prosperity on the auspice of all the holy festivals including Dashain, Tihar, Chhatta, Nepal Sambat and upcoming festivals.

The ideas and information in this research journal are solely of individual authors and do not necessarily reflect any concept of the Editorial Board.

June, 2023

(Dr. Jagat Prasad Parajuli)

Editor-In-Chief